THE TRIAL OF DAVIS.

Assistant United States Attorney James M. Proctor, in an address yesterday to the jury in Criminal Court No. 2, in Washington, testified that the government expected to prove in the case against John O. Davis, charged with embezzlement of various sums, that $2,000,000 Mr. Proctor made the statement that Davis, who is a lawyer, engaged in fraudulent enterprises to convert to his own use money entrusted to him by clients; that $2,000,000 obtained from Miss Nellie McKenna and Dr. Robert Lee Wilkins was obtained on the representation that he was procuring loans for a large contractor in Washington engaged in great building enterprises.

Miss McKenna was the first witness called, and told how she hypothesized certain checks to raise money she gave Davis. She told of the representations made to her by the prisoner and of her giving him checks amounting to $2,000. She said she had not that amount when Davis asked for it, and wired her brokers in Cincinnati, who hypothesized certain stock for her and raised the necessary sum. Davis had her draw the check to the order of W. E. Sisson. When asked if she knew Mr. Sisson she replied that Davis had told her.

The prisoner interrupted the witness, saying: "He lived in Alexandria." Attorney Davis tried to quit his client, but he, continuing, said: "Well, he did." The deputy marshal restrained the prisoner. He returned his preoccupied appearance.

Dr. Wilkins also testified to the alleged misrepresentations of Davis and how the latter obtained $10,000 from him. Other witnesses were Attorney E. H. Hutton Jackson, Miss Moore, of the office of the recorder of deeds, Mrs. Mary Sisson, Dr. Wade H. Aitcheson, William E. Foster, of Fairfax county, and Miss Bertha Frances Wolfe. The last named testified that she met Davis at a Bible class, and had loaned her savings of a lifetime to his judgment in investing.

In order to prove his contention that Davis is insane, Attorney Henry E. Davis filed a motion that the government stand the expense of bringing to Washington two North Carolina physicians, who will testify as to the mental derangement of the defendant in 1902.

During the proceedings yesterday, Davis reclined in his chair in a listless manner, and on more than one occasion nodded in a nap.

At 10:30 o'clock the little ones were on their way home to happy hearts and smiling faces, wishing another birthday soon by some little friend.

THE BURNING TO DEATH OF MR. AND MRS. MILLER.

Many residents of Accokeek, Md., do not believe that the fire in John T. Miller's home, in which Mr. and Mrs. Miller were burned to death, was accidental. Mr. Miller, it is thought, was robbed of nearly $2,000, that he and his wife were murdered and his home set on fire.

While the police have not succeeded in finding any clue that leads to the detection of any criminal, they find a chain of circumstances which leads them to the belief that the aged resident and his wife were killed. The matter is to be investigated.

One of the clues which the police are working on is that of Mrs. Miller's slippers, found in the rear of their home. Another clue the police are working on is that the door usually used by Mr. and Mrs. Miller when going to the rear of their home was bolted, and that the front door was open when the fire was discovered.

Two hours before the fire was discovered Mrs. Robert W. Miller, while in bed, heard someone weeping outside of her window. She informed her husband, a brother of the dead man. He told her not to mind. Later, she says, she heard someone at the wood pile. She also told this to her husband and he again told her not to worry.

The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Miller were not found until late Sunday morning. The arms and legs of both bodies could not be found. A body believed to be that of Miller was found near one of the doors. Near this searcher picked up a lot of melted silver, which it is believed he had in his hand when he was either killed or turned to death.

Mrs. Miller's body was found on the other side of the building. Mr. Miller always slept with a pistol under his pillow. Beside it he placed every night a leather pocketbook containing nearly $2,000 in notes. This was gone, as he openly stated he never believed in banks or security companies, and that he would rather place his money in his pocket and under his pillow than trust it elsewhere. No remnants of the pocketbook or the pistol were found by the residents.

The police want to learn the identity of a strange man who was seen in the neighborhood of the Miller house late Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Miller went to their bedroom shortly after 10 o'clock, and they always turned the lights out after they retired. But on Saturday night a light was seen flickering in one of the rooms on the second floor about midnight.

A few persons believe Mrs. Miller, who was feeble, became ill at night and arose from bed to take medicine. In doing so these residents, numbering two or three, say she may have dropped the lamp and before she or her husband could escape met death.

Only a year ago Mr. Miller deeded over his property to his wife under the condition that if she should die the estate was to go to his brother, Robert W. Miller. The latter made a similar deed.

DEATH OF MR. JOHN RUST.

Mr. John Rust, son of Doctor and Mrs. D. N. Rust, died at 8 o'clock this morning at the George Washington Hospital in Washington. The deceased had been a sufferer from typhoid fever during the past five weeks. He was 26 years old. Mr. Rust had been associated with the C. O. Coal and Coke Company in Washington. He was an energetic and popular young man and his many friends and acquaintances will regret to learn of his death. His remains will be taken to the home of his parents in Alexandria county. The funeral will take place from the residence at 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The interment will be in Ivy Hill cemetery. Rev. W. J. Morton, of Christ Church, will conduct the services. ## [COMMUNICATED]

TO VOTE TOMORROW.

Those who have qualified themselves as citizens of the commonwealth of Virginia by paying their capitation tax will tomorrow select several members of the City Council. Alexandria city has been fortunate indeed in having in this body men of brain, conservative and safe—men whose eyes fear not larger than other portions of their anatomy. In three wards of this city there will be contests. In the Second, Messrs. Brill and Baader will be opposed by Mr. Julian Y. Williams. In the Third, Messrs. Hellmuth and Birrell will be antagonized by Mr. A. D. Brockett. In the Fourth, Mr. L. E. Uhler will have opposition in Messrs. O. B. Swan and Thomas Chaucery. As a citizen of the Second ward, I want to speak a word in behalf of one of the best men that ever occupied a seat in the Common Council. Slow in speech and action, but deep in thought and the essentials which protect the property interests of this city; always at his post of duty both at committee meetings and the regular sessions of the body; a man who cares not for honors and one prominent in the financial affairs of the city, being a large property owner and engaged in extensive business. At this time it would be next to disastrous to displace Mr. Henry Baader. If these who now antagonize Henry Baader had submitted their names at the proper time, it is safe to presume that the present incumbent would not have been a candidate, but no name was submitted until the last moment. Mr. Baader is therefore a candidate for Council and it behooves those who have the welfare of the city at heart to vote for him. There is a movement on foot, and several caucuses have been held, which had for their object the fixing of a slate with Henry Baader's name omitted, but it is earnestly hoped that the would-be dictators will receive a setback this time which will forever eliminate them from politics. If they want to know why all the agitation is directed at the interests they represent they can find the answer in too much meddling in local politics. Elect Baader to the Common Council and you will not regret it.

THE CONDEMNED MEN.

Schultz on March 6, 1909, left this city today for Richmond for the purpose of interviewing Governor Mann in the interest of Smith. Mr. Louis H. Maschen, counsel for Calvin Johnson, was unable to say this morning whether or not he will go to Richmond, as he was waiting for a letter which he expected to receive from the governor. So far as can be learned there is nothing new to note in the case. As was stated in a telegraphic dispatch from Richmond in yesterday's Gazette, Governor Mann has written to Alexandria that any plea for the condemned men must be presented to him in writing at once, as he will not consider verbal statements.

VERDICT SET ASIDE.

In the Circuit Court for this city today in the case of McKenna vs. the Southern Railway, in which a jury yesterday awarded the plaintiff damages in the sum of $2,250 for damage to his property by reason of smoke, soot, &c., Judge Thornton today set aside much of the judgment as to his refusal to grant a new trial of the case and will hear arguments on the motion for a new trial later in the term.
